Teach like a Champion - Doug Lemov

Another classic read that never fails to throw light onto removing barriers and raising skills. This was recommended to me by my amazing school improvement partner at the start of my Headship journey. I purchased a copy for my senior team to ensure we all had a common framework for teaching and learning progress. 452 pages of strategies that empower staff to both adopt and adapt classroom practice.

A THOUGHT FOR YOUR COLLEAGUES ...

Have a look at the cover or duty board this week – turn up instead of the named staff and let them enjoy their unexpected time.

Any school enrichment activities going on during or after school during December? If you are available, turn up to support and be that extra pair of hands, the students will love it too.
